

Four classical instruments, modern sound, electrifying voice and unconventional arrangements - this is how to simply describe Chilla Quartet's character. Female string quartet is made up of four young, spontaneous women. Their stage is dominated by modernity - through its prism they allow the listeners to rediscover their favorite songs, but they also show that modern music may sound good even for classical music lovers. Unusual arrangements are not the only things that can be surprising. The quartet on stage often transforms into a trio which creates a background for the voice of Paulina Lulek - Zielińska. The singer and violist perfectly finds herself in the role of a front man. Chilla Quartet is a non-trivial formation that, besides of love for music, sets itself a goal - to rediscover what is known, surprise the audience and spread good energy.

All live music enthusiasts are welcome to cooperate. Female string quartet performing at the same time as trio with vocal. Repertoire includes hits of entertaining, pop and film music. We address the offer to people who organize:
